

7th October 2016 @ A Day at TCS- Siruseri, Chennai

About Chennai

Chennai also known as Madras is the capital city of the Indian state of Tamil Nadu. Located on the Coromandel Coast off the Bay of Bengal, it is the biggest industrial and commercial center in South India, and a major cultural, economic and educational center.

Chennai is known as the "Detroit of India" for its automobile industry. Chennai has a tropical wet and dry climate. The hottest part of the year is late May to early June, known regionally as Agni Nakshatram ("fire star") with maximum temperatures around 35–40 °C (95–104 °F). The coolest part of the year is January, with minimum temperatures around 15–22 °C (59–72 °F).

About TCS Siruseri

TCS campus built to house a staff of 30,000 working in it and designed by the Uruguayan architect Carlos Ott was inaugurated on 23 February 2001 by Danilo Astori, the vice-president of Uruguay. It is the largest IT office in Asia.

Being truly an engineering and architectural marvel, the Techno Park is unique in the way it blends both business and lifestyle statements. It combines elements of traditional Indian architecture with modern design. An aerial view of the complex resembles six butterfly wings intertwined with a central spine.

Intelligently-designed, eco- friendly developed, this innovative design demonstrates environment-friendly processes, techniques and systems to meet the requisites for energy-efficient buildings, ISO 14001 certifications, zero waste disposals, carbon footprint offset, etc.
